

Worth Saving

The Newsletter of the North Carolina State Historic Preservation Office

FOLLOW US

On Facebook

On our Blog

February 2012—Issue 4

IN THIS ISSUE:

FEATURED TAX CREDIT PROJECT: WINMOCK DAIRY BARN, DAVIE COUNTY

CARTERET COUNTY SURVEY

P&N RAILROAD

DURHAM'S HISTORY SHOWCASED

SHILOH CEMETERY

LEXINGTON MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

FACTORY 91 OPENING

WOODEN WINDOWS IN THE LIMELIGHT

2012 SERVICE AWARDS CEREMONY

UPCOMING EVENTS:

Cornelius Revolutionary War Re-enactment

Edgecombe Community College Spring Courses

Statewide Historic Societies Events

March 7th-9th Historic Preservation Legislative Advocacy Week

Carteret County Survey presentation by Ruth Little, March 19th at 7 pm, at the Core Sound Waterfowl Museum, Harker's Island

National Register Advisory Committee Meeting June 14th at 10 am, Cultural Resources Building, 109 E. Jones St., Raleigh

CARTERET COUNTY SURVEY

The Carteret County survey examines over

600 historic sites and structures lying outside of Beaufort and Morehead City, previously surveyed. This project, sponsored by the State Historic Preservation Office, creates a comprehensive inventory of Carteret County's historic resources. The inventory will assist local agencies in the preservation and recognition of these resources. Ruth Little, who completed the survey, will present her findings March 19, 2012, at the Core Sound Waterfowl Museum, on Harker's Island, at 7 pm. This event is open to the public and light refreshments will be provided.

Carteret County House

FEATURED TAX CREDIT PROJECT: WINMOCK DAIRY BARN, DAVIE COUNTY

Discover Winmock Dairy Barns at Kinderton, a recent tax credit project that converted a historic dairy barn into an event space. The project was completed in 2011 and utilized both the state mill tax credit and federal historic tax credits. Click here for more information on tax credits

Former Secretary of the Department of Cultural Resources Libba Evans was honored by Wake Forest University, at a reception held at the Winmock Dairy Barn. Read more...

P&N RAILROAD

The Piedmont and Northern Railroad was originally designed as an inner-urban electric rail, a railway type rare in the South. Between 1910 and 1970, P&N Railroad played an important role in the growth of Charlotte as a New South City. The rail line served the textile mills of the Carolinas' piedmonts. The Piedmont and Northern Railroad reopened thanks to $500,000 in Federal Transportation Enhancements, as well as state and county funding. The reopening provides jobs and increases the efficiency of transporting goods.

Click here for more photos

DURHAM'S HISTORY SHOWCASED

Working through a grant sponsored by Preservation Durham and the National Trust for Historic Preservation, historian April Johnson works to document the legacy of the Durham African-American community through a new inventory of historic buildings and neighborhoods. On March 21st, 2012, Johnson will present her findings at a luncheon at Pop's Restaurant, 605 West Main Street, Durham. For more information about her work, a recent feature article in The Herald Sun is linked here.

SHILOH CEMETERY

This Revolutionary War-era cemetery is located on the border of NC and SC just outside of Charlotte. It recently was listed in the National Register of Historic Places for having distinctive headstone art and dating to the 18th century. Collaboration between North and South Carolina's Historic Preservation Offices was key to the ultimate designation

Read more here

LEXINGTON MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Lexington Memorial Hospital was recommended for listing on the National Register, February 9, 2012, subject to the Keeper's acceptance. This potential certification will provide property owners the opportunity to utilize historic preservation tax credits to complete necessary renovations. The hospital currently serves as affordable housing.

Lexington Memorial Hospital, 2011

FACTORY 91 OPENING

Entrance to Factory 91
Wake Forest Biotechnology Place,
Piedmont Triad Research Park
Corner of N. Patterson Ave and Fifth Street,
Winston-Salem, NC

Ribbon Cutting at Factory 91
Senator Burr; Dr. McConnell, CEO Wake Forest Baptist; Dr. Nathan Hatch, President WFU; Governor Perdue; Mayor Joines; Richard Linville, Forsyth County Commissioner; Michael Suggs, Exec. Dir. Goler Community Dev. Corp.; Dan Cramer, VP Wexford Science and Technology, LLC; and Doug Edgeton, President Piedmont Triad Research Park

Winston-Salem is shaping its future by looking to the past. Through an innovative public-private partnership, the city is rehabilitating historic R.J. Reynolds tobacco factory buildings, located in the heart of downtown Winston, this building will become the new centerpiece of the Piedmont Triad Research Park.

Public-private partnerships, made largely possible through the dual leveraging of state and federal historic tax credits with New Markets tax credits, will help transform this tobacco manufacturing district into a 240-acre cutting-edge biotechnology campus.

The first building in the complex to be completed is Factory 91, pictured at the left. There are plans for more than $300 million to be invested in rehabilitating the remaining historic buildings. Visit our Facebook page for more photos from the grand opening.

WOODEN WINDOWS IN THE LIMELIGHT

Everyone has been talking about wooden windows recently. Read up on the window buzz by linking to these three articles below. The consensus is clear hold on to those wooden windows.

Preservation Brief 3, Improving Energy Efficiency in Historic Buildings

Energy Saving Myths by Michael Blasnik

Repairing Windows Can Beat Replacing by Kim A. O'Connell

2012 SERVICE AWARDS CEREMONY

On Thursday, February 23, 2012, three members of the State Historic Preservation Office were recognized by Department of Cultural Resources Secretary Linda Carlisle and Division of Historical Resources Director David Brook for their years of loyal service to the State of North Carolina.

Tim Simmons, Senior Preservation Architect and Federal Rehabilitation Tax Credit Coordinator—20 years

Ann Swallow, National Register Coordinator—10 years

Jennifer Cathey, Restoration Specialist, Western Office—10 years

DCR Secretary Linda Carlisle awarding Tim Simmons and Ann Swallow

NORTH CAROLINA
DEPARTMENT OF
CULTURAL RESOURCES
WWW.NCCULTURE.COM

To unsubscribe from this e-newsletter click here

